

SALES MANAGER EXPORT & INTER COMPANY

For our Marketing & Sales department in Enkhuisen, the Netherlands, we are seeking an experienced commercial manager with a passion for export.

As Sales Manager Export & Inter Company you are responsible for the international sales of the Pipelife Nederland products. The sales takes place world wide. Furthermore you are responsible for the intercompany sales to other Pipelife companies. You perform market research and give technical information to customers. You take care of the sales plan, sales prognoses, product innovations and product developments. You are the link between customer and production.

You have at least 5 to 7 years of relevant, preferably international, working experience. Field experience is a preference. You have at least a higher level commercial education (HBO), with technical knowledge added to it. Of course you have an excellent knowledge of the languages Dutch, English, German and French, oral and in writing. You have an extended knowledge on IT / ERP systems and are an advanced user of MS Office (Excel).

You are an easy communicator at all levels and in different languages. You have a pro active attitude, familiar with logistic (export) processes and have a strong analytical intellectual capacity. You are willing to travel internationally (approx 25%) and to live in the surrounding area of Enkhuisen, the Netherlands.

Pipelife Nederland offers you a challenging position in a leading organisation with a clear growth strategy. We value development and training of our employees. Working at Pipelife means working with enthusiastic colleagues in an innovative and inspiring organisation with room for initiatives and career possibilities.

For more information please contact Mr. Paul Ummels, General Manager, phone +31-228-355 555.

Are you the driven Sales Manager with technical affinity? Then we invite you to send in your job application.
